

Sacramento State

CalGeo Sponsorship Proposal

2021-2022

President's message

Dear Sacramento State
CalGeo Supporter,

Thank you for your interest in supporting California State University-Sacramento. The student chapter is looking forward to working with our supporters as we look to brighter times. Our success could not be possible without the help of our gracious industry supporters. This year we aim to use a hybrid virtual and in-person format throughout the school year to maximize our efforts to promote geotechnical engineering through:

- GeoWall Project Team
- Networking Nights
- Field Trips
- Industry Presentations

No matter the type of continued support, we are grateful to our industry professionals for providing guidance to our members as they transition into the geotechnical engineering field. Within the following, you will find all the opportunities that we provide to our members. We look forward to a promising year and working with all of supporters.

Thank you from all of our members,

Kayla Salazar

About Sac State CalGeo:

Sacramento State's CalGeo student chapter of the California Geotechnical Engineering Association (CalGeo) is a nonprofit, student-run organization that strives to present members with resources to develop interest, skills, and connections in the geotechnical professional workforce.

As one of only seven CalGeo student chapters in California, CalGeo at Sac State introduces students to the exciting field of geotechnical engineering. Geotechnical engineering, one of the five main civil engineering disciplines, incorporates design with foundations, dams, and earth structures. Soil and rock properties are also evaluated from an engineering perspective. Each semester, CalGeo at Sac State hosts guest speaker dinner meetings, project site tours, and professional development opportunities for aspiring students

About Sac State GeoWall:

GeoWall at Sacramento State is a student-run competitive project team that designs and builds a small-scale mechanically stabilized earth (MSE) retaining system. The objective is to use the least amount of kraft paper and minimum reinforcement to endure soil and the design load. Throughout the year, the team has build practices, conducts laboratory testing, and competes in the annual American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE) Mid-Pacific competitions against other universities.

Looking Forward:

This year's Sac State CalGeo will look a little different from the last, but we are looking forward to a brighter future! We look forward to producing engaging events for participating members throughout the school year, including the following:

- Hybrid bi-weekly industry meetings
- Virtual office and lab tours
- Hybrid Info Sessions
- Geotechnical Engineering Graduate Programs at Sac State
- and other institutions
- Hosting during Civil and Environmental Engineering
- Career Fair Week
- Attendance at the Annual CalGeo Conference in April
- GeoWall Regional and National Competitions
- And more!

We aim to provide innovative ways for Sac State CalGeo members to network with each other and the industry. To support student success in Sac State CalGeo, we kindly request support from donors and sponsors such as you and/or your firm. All sponsorships go directly into funding enriching events for our students and industry partners for years to come.
